Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Shakespeare Association: The Seventeenth Century Accounts of the Masters of the Revels Up to number 11 these are written on very large folio sheets, No. 12 is little more than half size, and is not so complete. Someone, probably the auditor, has written against it on the first page, The names of the plaies wold be expressed, and against the last page, The parcells were wout to be more particularly expressed. That set of eleven account books give us much information regarding the development of the Court Drama. The advance in the Dramatists, the Plays, the Properties go on together. In the first book John Carow s properties shew traces of some old miracle play in his entry. Bodes of men in timber; Dishes for Devil s eyes, Hell and Hell mouth. In the books not completed by a list of names one can still gather something of the subjects performed from the expenses, as in 1572-3, For making of a Chariott xiiij foote long and viij foote brode with a blocke upon it...
